Temple Beth-El Building Fund Ball.

The Temple Beth-El Building Fund Ball, given at the Metropolitan Hotel Tuesday night was one of the most successful ever given, both socially and financially. In the large crowd that was present were most of the representative Jews and Jewesses of our city. Congregation Beth-El is indebted to the six women of the committee who got this affair up and who worked for it so efficiently. The new temple cannot but profit by loyalty and service of this sort. The committee is as follows: Mesdames R. Fuller, Chairman; George Fox, L. F. Lubin, Joseph Goldgraber, H. H. Miller and Dan Brown.

BRYAN ATTACKS FORD'S CHARGES AGAINST JEWS.

William Jennings Bryan, in his paper, the Commoner, printed at Lincoln, Neb., made the following comment on Ford's attacks:

The libel that is being circulated against the Jews, based on the so-called Protocols, is absurd as well as cruel. It is astonishing that any one would build upon an anonymous publication an indictment against one of the greatest races in history.

I have read the Protocols carefully and believe that they were either manufactured by an enemy of the Jewish people or written by an insane fanatic more probably the former. If, as seems less likely, they represent the imaginings of an unbalanced brain, it is grossly unfair to charge them up against the Jews in general. The diabolical character of the plot is enough to stamp it as either fraudulent or foolish. No such conspiracy could be planned by any considerable number not to speak of the impossibility of carrying it out. It would require the joint effort of all the leaders of the race to make it a real conspiracy, and what representative Jew in the whole world would be suspected of contemplating such a crime?

I have the pleasure of knowing quite intimately many prominent Jews, among them (only to mention a few), Justice Brandeis, of the Supreme Court; the great lawyer, Samuel Untermyer; the eminent jurist, Judge Mack; Nathan Strauss, the world-famed philanthropist, and his brother, Oscar, equally distinguished as a diplomat and peace advocate; Rabbi Wise, a fearless preacher of righteousness; Julius Rosenwald, business man and humanitarian; Ambassador Morgenthau, who recently represented the United States at Constantinople; the two Kahns, Otto and Julius; Bernard Baruch, Sigmund Zeisler, A. J. Elias, etc., etc.

Would any Jewish plan amount to much in this country without the support of these representatives of the race? And what Christian would be more prompt than they to expose and denounce such a conspiracy if it ever came to their notice?

The libel, while irritating, can not do any permanent harm; it will soon be forgotten.

ZIONIST EXECUTIVE PLANS YEAR'S WORK.

Jacob deHaas was elected Secretary for the Palestine Department, Louis Lipsky, Secretary for Organization, and Reuben Horchow, Assistant Treasurer and Secretary to the National Executive Committee, at the first National Executive Committee meeting of the Zionist Organization of America, held after the convention.

Announcement was made that since Dr. Weizmann will arrive in this country in the middle of January, a committee would be formed, composed of representatives of National Jewish Organizations as well as individuals prominent in Jewish life, to arrange a public welcome for him from the Jews of America. Judge Mack will appoint another committee to make full arrangements for Dr. Weizman's tour of the country.

The executive in response to a request from Young Judea, voted that organization an amount not to exceed $2,000 per month for January and February—two-thirds of which is to be used in meeting the running expenses

PALESTINE NOT TO BE GOVERNED BY ITS POPULATION.

Jerusalem: (By I. J. P. B.) In a statement issued by High Commissioner Samuel the declaration was made that owing to the fact that in any government by the people of Palestine under present circumstances, Arabians would form the majority, it is the policy of the British government to continue, for the time being, government in the hands of the High Commissioner and his assistants.
